The Cambodia Branch uses the United States Dollar (USD) as its accounting currency. The Board of Directors of the Corporation believes that the use of the United States Dollar as the accounting currency is necessary to reflect the economic substance of the transactions related to the Branch's business operations. For the purpose of statutory reporting in Vietnam, the Corporation has converted its interim financial statements for the period from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2025, which were prepared in United States Dollar (USD) to Vietnamese Dong (VND) according to the following principles:

Assets and liabilities are converted into Vietnamese Dong at the actual exchange rate at the end of the period (which is the transfer rate of a commercial bank where the enterprise regularly conducts transactions at the time of reporting);

Exchange rate differences are converted into Vietnamese Dong at the actual transaction rate on the valuation date;

Undistributed profit after tax and funds allocated from undistributed profit after tax arising after the investment date are converted into Vietnamese Dong at the actual exchange rate at the end of the period;

Vinaincon Building, No. 5 Lang Ha, Thanh Cong Ward Ba Dinh District, Hanoi City Issued under Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance

The Myanmar Branch uses Myanmar KYAT (MMK) as its accounting currency. The Board of Directors of the Corporation believes that the use of an accounting currency is necessary to reflect the economic substance of the transactions related to the business operations of the Branch. For the purpose of statutory reporting in Vietnam, the Corporation has converted its interim financial statements for the period from January 1, 2025 to March 31, 2025, prepared in Myanmar KYAT (MMK) to Vietnamese Dong (VND) at a conversion rate of 12.9 MMK/VND.

Items in the Cash Flow Statement are converted into Vietnamese Dong at the average exchange rate.

Exchange rate differences arising when converting interim financial statements prepared in foreign currencies into Vietnamese Dong are recorded in the item "Exchange rate differences" - Code 417 in the Equity section of the interim balance sheet .

Types of exchange rates applied in accounting

The exchange rate for converting transactions arising during the period in foreign currency is the exchange rate with the transaction banks .

The Corporation has not yet revalued foreign currency monetary items at the time of preparing the interim consolidated financial statements.

Principles for determining cash and cash equivalents

Cash is a synthetic indicator reflecting the total amount of money available to the enterprise at the reporting time, including cash in the enterprise's fund and non-term bank deposits, recorded and reported in Vietnamese Dong (VND), in accordance with the provisions of the Accounting Law No. 03/2003/QH11 dated June 17, 2003.

Cash equivalents are short-term investments with a recovery or maturity of no more than 3 months, which can be easily converted into a known amount of cash and are subject to no risk of conversion into cash from the date of purchase to the date of preparation of the interim consolidated financial statements, in accordance with the provisions of Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 24 - Cash flow statement.

Principles of accounting for financial investments

Held to maturity investments

Held-to-maturity investments include those investments that the Corporation has the intention and ability to hold until maturity. Held-to-maturity investments are Term bank deposits are recorded from the date the deposit occurs.

Investment in subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are companies controlled by the Corporation. Control is achieved when the Corporation has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an investee company so as to obtain benefits from its activities.

Investment in associates

An associate is an entity in which the Group has significant influence and that is neither a subsidiary nor a joint venture of the Group. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

Investing in other entities

Investments in other entities reflect investments in capital but the Corporation does not have control, joint control or significant influence over the investee.

The Corporation initially records investments in subsidiaries, associates and capital contributions to other entities at cost from the date of capital contribution. The Corporation recognizes in the Income Statement the amount distributed from the accumulated net profit of the investee arising after the date of investment. Other amounts received by the Corporation other than distributed profits are considered as a recovery of investments and are recorded as a reduction in the cost of the investment.

Method of making provision for loss of investments

Vinaincon Building, No. 5 Lang Ha, Thanh Cong Ward Ba Dinh District, Hanoi City Issued under Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance

Investments in subsidiaries, associates and capital contributions in other entities are presented in the interim consolidated balance sheet at cost less provisions for losses. Provisions for losses in investments in subsidiaries, associates and capital contributions in other entities are set aside in accordance with Circular No. 48/2019/TT-BTC dated August 8, 2019 of the Ministry of Finance on "Guidelines for setting aside and handling provisions for inventory price reduction, investment losses, bad debts and warranties for products, goods, services and construction works at enterprises".

Principles of accounting for receivables

Receivables are amounts that are recoverable from customers or other entities. Receivables include amounts due from customers and other receivables. Receivables are presented at book value less allowances for doubtful debts. Receivables are not recorded at a higher amount than is recoverable.

Trade receivables include commercial receivables arising from purchase and sale transactions.

Other receivables include non-commercial receivables not related to purchase and sale transactions.

Receivables are tracked in detail by each subject and term of receivables and other factors according to the management needs of the enterprise.

At the time of preparing the interim consolidated financial statements, the Corporation has not yet reevaluated the balance of receivables denominated in foreign currencies .

Provision for doubtful debts is made for each doubtful debt, based on the age of overdue debts or the expected level of loss that may occur.

Principles of inventory recognition

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost includes direct materials, direct labor and, if any, overheads that have been incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined using the weighted average method. Net realizable value is determined as the estimated selling price less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs to be incurred in marketing, selling and distribution.

Inventory accounting method: The Corporation applies the perpetual inventory method.

Principles of recognition and depreciation methods of fixed assets

Principles of recognition and depreciation method of tangible fixed assets: Tangible fixed assets are recorded at original cost, reflected on the Balance Sheet according to the indicators of original cost, accumulated depreciation and remaining value.

The recording and depreciation of tangible fixed assets are carried out in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 03 - Tangible fixed assets, Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC dated December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance guiding the enterprise accounting regime and Circular 45/2013/TT - BTC dated April 25, 2013 guiding the regime of management, use and depreciation of fixed assets.

The original cost of a fixed asset acquired through purchase includes the purchase price and all other costs directly related to putting the asset into a state of readiness for use. For fixed assets acquired through capital construction investment under the method of contracting or self-construction and production, the original cost is the final settlement price of the construction project according to the current Investment and Construction Management Regulations, other directly related costs and registration fees (if any). In case the project has been completed and put into use but the final settlement has not been approved, the original cost of the fixed asset is recorded at the provisional price based on the actual costs incurred to acquire the fixed asset. The provisional price will be adjusted according to the final settlement price approved by competent authorities.

Expenses incurred after the initial recognition of tangible fixed assets are recorded as an increase in the original cost of the asset when these expenses certainly increase future economic benefits. Expenses incurred that do not satisfy the above conditions are recorded by the Corporation as production and business expenses in the period.

Vinaincon Building, No. 5 Lang Ha, Thanh Cong Ward Ba Dinh District, Hanoi City Issued under Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance

The Corporation applies the straight-line depreciation method for tangible fixed assets. Tangible fixed asset accounting is classified according to groups of assets with the same nature and purpose of use in the production and business activities of the Corporation, including:

Type of fixed asset Depreciation period <years>

- Houses and structures	14 - 25
- Machinery and equipment	03 - 08
- Means of transport	10
- Management equipment and tools	03 - 08

b. Principles of recognition and depreciation methods of intangible fixed assets

The Corporation's intangible fixed assets include: accounting software, website management software, LAN software, human resource and warehouse management software, and BKAV electronic office software.

The recognition and depreciation of intangible fixed assets are carried out in accordance with Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 04 - Intangible fixed assets, Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC dated December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance guiding the enterprise accounting regime and Circular No. 45/2013/TT-BTC dated April 25, 2013 of the Ministry of Finance promulgating the regime on management, use and depreciation of fixed assets.

Intangible fixed assets are recorded at original cost, reflected on the Balance Sheet according to the indicators of original cost, accumulated depreciation and residual value.

The Corporation applies the straight-line depreciation method for intangible fixed assets. Accounting for intangible fixed assets is classified according to groups of assets with the same nature and purpose of use in the production and business activities of the Corporation, including:

Type of fixed asset

Depreciation period <years>

- Accounting software	02
- Human resource management and warehouse	02
management software	03
- Website management software	5 -2 27,
- LAN software	03
- BKAV electronic office software	03

Principles of recognition and allocation of prepaid expenses

Prepaid expenses include actual expenses that have been incurred but are related to the business performance of many accounting periods.

Long-term prepaid expenses are the value of land use rights payable under the equitization plan of the Corporation approved by the Prime Minister, the value of tools and equipment awaiting allocation and the cost of supporting rent and office relocation for Chemical Construction and Installation Company Limited which are considered to be capable of bringing future economic benefits to the Corporation for a period of one year or more, capitalized in the form of long-term prepaid expenses and allocated over a period of 2 to 3 financial years to the business performance report according to current accounting regulations.

Accounting principles for accounts payable

Liabilities are amounts payable to suppliers and others. Liabilities include trade and other payables. Liabilities are not recorded as less than the obligation to pay.

Trade payables include commercial payables arising from transactions of purchasing goods, services, assets and the seller is an independent entity from the buyer, including payables between the parent company and subsidiaries, joint ventures and associates.

Vinaincon Building, No. 5 Lang Ha, Thanh Cong Ward Ba Dinh District, Hanoi City Issued under Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance

Other payables include non-commercial payables not related to the purchase, sale or provision of goods and services.

Payables are monitored in detail by each entity and payment term. At the time of preparing the interim consolidated financial statements, the Corporation has not re-evaluated the balance of payables denominated in foreign currencies.

Principle of recording payable expenses

expenses include: interest expenses payable to shareholders (capital contributions during the period when the Corporation has not completed the procedures to convert to a joint stock company) recorded based on the State Audit Minutes, pre-deductible expenses for construction projects and other payable expenses.

The provision for production and business expenses in the period must be calculated closely and have reasonable and reliable evidence of the expenses that must be provisioned in the period to ensure that the amount of expenses payable recorded in this account is consistent with the actual expenses incurred.

The provision of advance costs to provisionally calculate the cost price of projects is in accordance with the following principles: The Corporation only provides advance costs to provisionally calculate the cost price of completed projects/items that have been determined to be sold during the period. The advance costs included in the cost price are costs that are included in the investment and construction estimates but do not yet have sufficient records and documents to accept the volume. The provisionally calculated advance cost amount must correspond to the cost price norm calculated according to the total estimated cost of the project/item determined to have been sold.

Principles and methods of recording provisions for payables

The Corporation's provision for payables is the provision for construction warranty, calculated according to the contract of each project with warranty period, in accordance with the 3 conditions for recording provisions for payables stipulated in Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 18 - Provisions, assets and contingent liabilities.

Principle of equity recognition

Owner's equity is recorded at the actual amount contributed by the owner.

Undistributed earnings are the profits (interests) from a business's operations.

Principles and methods of recording revenue and other income

The Corporation's revenue is revenue from construction and installation activities.

Revenue from the Corporation's construction contracts is recognized in accordance with the Corporation's accounting policy on construction contracts.

Construction contract

When the outcome of a construction contract can be estimated reliably, revenue and costs are recognised by reference to the stage of completion of the contract activity at the end of the reporting period, measured as a proportion of the estimated total contract costs incurred for work performed to date, except where this proportion is not representative of the stage of completion. This may include additional costs, compensation and performance bonuses as agreed with the customer.

When the outcome of a construction contract cannot be estimated reliably, revenue is recognised only to the extent of contract costs incurred that are likely to be recoverable.

Financial revenue includes revenue from bank deposit interest, dividends and distributed profits.

Revenue from bank deposit interest is recorded on the basis of time and actual interest rate of each period, in accordance with the two conditions for recording revenue arising from interest, royalties, dividends and shared profits as prescribed in Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 14 - "Revenue and other income".

Vinaincon Building, No. 5 Lang Ha, Thanh Cong Ward Ba Dinh District, Hanoi City Issued under Circular No. 200/2014/TT-BTC December 22, 2014 of the Ministry of Finance

Revenue from dividends and distributed profits is recorded when shareholders are entitled to receive dividends (parties participating in capital contribution are entitled to receive profits from capital contribution), based on the Minutes of the Shareholders' Meeting/Dividend Distribution Decision, in accordance with the 2 conditions for recording revenue arising from interest, royalties, dividends and distributed profits stipulated in Vietnamese Accounting Standard No. 14 - "Revenue and other income".

Advances from customers are not recognized as revenue in the period.

Other income of the Corporation is revenue from liquidation of tools, equipment and car rental, recorded on the basis of receipts, bank documents, liquidation contracts and related accounting documents.

Principles of recording cost of goods sold

Construction and installation costs are recorded and transferred based on the contract assignment ratio of each project as stipulated in the Contract assignment and in accordance with actual costs incurred.

Other accounting principles and methods

Tax obligations

Value Added Tax (VAT)

The Corporation applies VAT declaration and calculation according to the guidance of current tax laws.

Corporate income tax

Corporate income tax represents the total value of current tax payable.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from net profit as reported in the income statement because it excludes items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years (including losses carried forward, if any) and it further excludes items that are not taxable or deductible.

The Corporation applies a corporate income tax rate of 20% on taxable profits. The units under the Corporation are calculated and settled for corporate income tax centrally at the Corporation.

Particularly, the Cambodia Branch - Vietnam Industrial Construction Corporation has paid corporate income tax (20%) abroad. When calculating corporate income tax payable in Vietnam, the unit is allowed to deduct the tax paid abroad and ensure that the deducted tax does not exceed the income tax calculated according to the provisions of the Law on Corporate Income Tax of Vietnam.

The determination of the Corporation's corporate income tax is based on current tax regulations. However, these regulations change from time to time and the final determination of corporate income tax depends on the results of the examination by the competent tax authority.

Other taxes

Other taxes and fees must be declared and paid by the enterprise to the local tax authority in accordance with current regulations of the State.
