4.2 ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

The preparation of the Financial Statements in compliance with Vietnamese Accounting Standards, the Vietnamese Enterprise Accounting System and legal regulations relating to the preparation and presentation of Financial Statements requires the Board of Directors to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of liabilities, assets and the presentation of contingent liabilities and assets at the date of the Financial Statements as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the financial year (operating period). Although the accounting estimates are made to the best of the knowledge of the Board of Directors, the actual amounts incurred may differ from the estimates and assumptions made.

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

The cost of inventories comprises all costs incurred in bringing the inventories to present location and condition, including: purchase price, non-refundable taxes, transportation, handling, storage costs incurred in the purchase process, standard losses, and other costs directly attributable to the purchase of inventories.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventories in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

The Company applies the periodic inventory method to account for inventories. The selling price of inventories is calculated using the monthly weighted average method.

Prepayments include short-term prepayments and long-term prepayments depending on the original term. These amounts are allocated over the prepaid period of the expense or over the period in which economic benefits are expected to be generated.

The calculation and allocation of long-term prepayments into manufacturing expenses for each accounting period is based on the nature and extent of each type of expense to select a reasonable allocation method and criteria. Prepayments are gradually allocated into manufacturing expenses using the straight-line method.

4.8 TANGIBLE FIXED ASSETS AND DEPRECIATION

Tangible fixed assets are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of tangible fixed assets includes all costs incurred by the Company to acquire the fixed assets up to the date when the assets are ready for use. When tangible fixed assets are sold or disposal, the cost and accumulated depreciation are written off and the gain or loss arising from the disposal is recorded as income or expenses in the period.

Tangible fixed assets are depreciated using the straight-line method. The number of years of depreciation for each type of tangible fixed asset is based on the estimated useful life of the asset, as follows:

- Plant, structural equipment	05 - 50
- Machinery, equipment	03 - 15
- Means of transportation	03 - 10

When intangible fixed assets are sold or disposal, the cost and accumulated depreciation are written off and the gain or loss arising from the disposal is recognized as income or expenses in the period.

- The costs incurred for the transaction and the costs to complete the service transaction can be measured reliably.

Deposits interest

Interest is recognized on an accrual basis, determined on the balance of deposit accounts and the actual interest rate for each period.

4.13 COST OF GOODS SOLD

Cost of goods sold and services rendered is the total cost incurred for goods and services. Expenses exceeding the normal level of inventories are immediately recorded in the cost of goods sold during the period.

4.14 FINANCIAL EXPENSES

Financial expenses reflect expenses incurred during the period, mainly including borrowing costs, losses incurred when selling foreign currencies, exchange rate differences in payments and exchange rate differences due to revaluation of foreign currency balances at the end of the period.

4.15 Selling expenses and administrative expenses

Selling expenses reflect actual costs incurred in the process of selling products, goods, and providing services, including costs of offering, introducing products, advertising products, sales commissions, product and goods warranty costs, preservation, packaging, transportation costs, etc.

Administrative expenses reflect general management expenses of the enterprise, including costs of salaries for employees in the business management department (salaries, wages, allowances, etc.); Social insurance, health insurance, union fees, unemployment insurance for business management employees; Costs of office materials, labor tools, depreciation of fixed assets used for business management; Land rent, business license tax; Provision for bad debts; Outsourced services (electricity, water, telephone, fax, property insurance, fire and explosion insurance, etc.); Other cash expenses.

4.16 FOREIGN CURRENCY

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate on the date of the transaction.

Exchange rate differences arising during the period from foreign currency transactions are recorded in financial income or financial expenses in the accounting period. Exchange rate differences arising from revaluation of foreign currency items at the end of the accounting period after offsetting increases and decreases are recorded in financial income or financial expenses.

The exchange rate used to convert transactions in foreign currencies is the actual exchange rate at the time of the transaction.

4.17 BORROWING EXPENSES

Borrowing expenses include interest and other costs incurred in connection with borrowings.

Borrowing expenses are recognized as expenses when incurred. In cases where borrowing expenses are directly related to the investment in construction or production of uncompleted assets that require a sufficient period (over 12 months) to be put to use for the intended purpose or sale, these borrowing expenses are capitalized. For loans specifically for the construction of fixed assets, investment real estate, interest is capitalized even if the construction period is less than 12 months. Income arising from temporary investment of loans is recorded as a reduction in the original cost of related assets.

For general borrowings used for the purpose of investment in construction or production of unfinished assets, the capitalized borrowing expenses are determined according to the capitalization rate for the weighted average cumulative costs incurred for investment in basic construction or production of that asset. The capitalization rate is calculated according to the weighted average interest rate of the outstanding borrowings during the period, except for separate borrowings serving the purpose of forming a specific asset.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT'D)

4.18 TAXES

Corporate income tax expense comprises Current corporate income tax and Deferred corporate income tax.

Current corporate income tax

Current income tax is the tax calculated on taxable income. Taxable income differs from accounting profit due to adjustments for temporary differences between tax and accounting, non-deductible expenses as well as adjustments for non-taxable income and losses carried forward.

The determination of the Company's corporate income tax is based on current tax regulations. However, these regulations are subject to change from time to time and the final determination of corporate income tax depends on the results of the audit by the competent tax authority.

Value Added Tax

The Company accounts for input Value Added Tax ("VAT") using the deduction method.

Other taxes

Other taxes are applied in accordance with the current tax laws in Vietnam.

4.19 EARNINGS PER SHARE, DILUTED EARNINGS PER SHARE

Earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit or loss after tax attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company (after adjusting for the Bonus and Welfare Fund and the Executive Board Bonus Fund) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit or loss after tax attributable to ordinary shareholders of the Company (after adjusting for the Bonus and Welfare Fund, the Executive Board Bonus Fund and dividends on convertible preference shares) by the weighted average number of ordinary shares that would be issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential ordinary shares into ordinary shares.

4.20 RELATED PARTIES

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. Parties are also considered to be related if they are subject to common control or common significant influence.

In considering a related party relationship, attention is paid more to the substance of the relationship than to the legal form.
