Account receivables are stated at the carrying amounts of trade receivables and other receivables less provisions for doubtful debts.

- Provision for doubtful debts:

As of the date of preparing the financial statements, provision for doubtful debt is recognised for past-due accounts receivable and for accounts receivable where circumstances indicate that they might not be recoverable when due at the level as guided in prevailing regulations. The determination of the overdue period of a doubtful receivable to be provisioned is based on the principal repayment period according to the original sale contract, excluding the debt extension between the

The difference between the required balance and the existing balance of provision for doubtful debts is recorded as a general and administrative expense in the income statement.

5. Tangible fixed asset

Tangible fixed assets are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation. Tangible fixed assets are initially recognised at their cost. The cost of purchased tangible fixed assets comprises the purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the assets to their present location and working condition for their intended use. Accessories added to fixed assets when purchased are recognised separately at their fair value and deducted from the historical cost of the respective tangible fixed assets.

When fixed assets are sold or disposed of, the original cost and accumulated depreciation are removed, and any profit or loss arising from the disposal is recognized as income or expense in the period

The costs of fixed assets are depreciated on a straight-line method over their estimated useful lives.

The estimated useful lives are as follows:

	Year
+ Buildings, structures	10 - 50
+ Machinery and equipment	06 - 15
+ Motor vehicles	06 - 10
+ Office equipment	03 - 08

6. Intangible fixed assets:

6.1. Intangible fixed assets of the company are software:

Intangible fixed assets of the company are software. The historical cost of software includes all costs directly attributable to making software available for use. Accounting software is depreciated by straight – line method from 01 to 05 years.

6.2. Land Use Rights:

"Long-term land use rights" refer to the total costs incurred by the company to acquire the right to use the land in order to generate economic benefits. The cost of long-term land use rights is not subject to depreciation as prescribed by law.

7. Construction in progress:

Construction in progress reflects the related direct costs (including interest expense capitalized) until the asset is in the process of building, machinery and equipment are installed to serve for the purpose of manufacturing, leasing and management, as well as costs related to the repair of fixed assets are performing. These assets are recorded at cost and are not amortized.

8. Borrowing costs:

- Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets until the assets are put into use or sale. Investment income earned on temporary investment of borrowings is deducted from the cost of the respective assets. All other borrowing costs are recognised as an expense in the consolidated income statement when incurred.

9. Financial investments:

- Investments classified as other investments are investments other than investments in subsidiaries, investments in associates or investments on joint ventures.
- Provision for investment impairment loss is made when there is any certain evidence that there will be an impairment in the value of these investments at the
- The difference between the required balance and the existing balance of provision for investment impairment loss is recognised as financial expenses in the

10. Prepayments:

- Prepayments are classified as current and non-current based on their original term. Prepayments mainly comprise costs of tools and supplies and repair expenses, etc., which are amortised over the period for which they are paid or the period in which economic benefits are generated in relation to these expenses.
- The following expenses are recognised as prepayments and amortised to the consolidated income statement:
 - + Prepaid land, infrastructure and fixed asset rentals are amortised over the period of lease;
 - + Other prepaid expenses: Based on the nature and volume of each expense, the company selects appropriate methods and criteria for allocation during the period when the expected economic benefits are generated.

11. Liabilities:

- Liabilities are classified into trade payables and other payables based on the following rules: Trade payables represent those arising from purchase and sale related transactions of goods, services or assets and the seller is independent of the buyer; the remaining payables are classified as other payables.

12. Accrued expenses:

- Accrued expenses represent expenses that will be paid in the future for goods or services received but not yet paid due to lack of invoices or accounting documents. These expenses are recognised as operating expenses of the reporting year.
- The company's accrued expenses include loan interest and sales commission expenses. Estimated loan interest expenses are calculated based on the outstanding loan balance and the interest rates specified in the credit agreements. Sales commission expenses are determined according to the sales policy applicable during each actual period.

13. Severance Allowance and Unemployment Insurance:

- The company allocates unemployment insurance expenses and directly deducts them from employees in accordance with current regulations.

14. Owners' equity:

- The owners' contributed equity is recognised when contributed.

- + Revenue from selling goods is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. In most cases, revenue is recognised when transferring the risks and rewards of ownership to the buyer.

Revenue involving the rendering of services:

- Revenue of a transaction involving the rendering of services is recognised when the outcome of this transaction can be estimated reliably. When a transaction involving the rendering of services is attributable to several periods, each period's revenue is recognised by reference to the stage of completion at the end of the reporting period.

Principles and Methods for Recognizing Financial Income:

- Financial income reflects revenue from interest, dividends, profit sharing, and other financial activities of the enterprise (such as investments in associates, other capital investments, foreign exchange gains, etc.). Revenue arising from interest, dividends, and profit sharing of the enterprise is recognized when the following two conditions are simultaneously met: 1. It is probable that economic benefits will be obtained from the transaction; 2. The revenue can be measured with reasonable certainty. - Interest is recognized on a time basis using the actual interest rate for each period. - Dividends and profit sharing are recognized when shareholders are entitled to receive dividends or when participants in the contribution are entitled to their share.

16. Finance expense:

- Finance expenses represent all expenses incurred in the reporting year which mainly include borrowing costs and losses from exchange rates.

17. Corporate income tax:

- Current corporate income tax expense
- Current corporate tax expense is determined on the basis of taxable income and the rate of corporate income tax (CIT) of the current year at 20%.

18. Related parties:

- Related parties are individuals or entities that have the ability, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, to control the Company or are controlled by, or are subject to common control with the Company. Associates, individuals owning, directly or indirectly, an interest in the voting power of the Company that gives them significant influence over the Company, key management personnel, including directors and officers of the Company and close family members or associates of such individuals are also considered to be related parties.
